

PROJECT PREVENT COLLISION

Window-bird collisions are a substantial source of human-caused avian mortality. In the United States, it has been estimated that between 100 million and 1 billion birds die in collisions with windows every year, and on average 1-10 birds die per building per year.

To learn more about how to prevent collisions, please visit www.wildbird.com/window.

PROJECT PREVENT COLLISION

Window-bird collisions are a substantial source of human-caused avian mortality. In the United States, it has been estimated that between 100 million and 1 billion birds die in collisions with windows every year, and on average 1-10 birds die per building per year.

To learn more about how to prevent collisions, please visit www.wildbird.com/window.